

CROATIAN TEENS CHOOSE THEIR FIVE NATIONAL MODELS

GOODNESS

Ante Gotovina

good role model - unselfish, risked his life, and his freedom for his own people.
He was unjustly charged and imprisioned. Despite all the troubles he hoped that justice will be met, which finally came true.
He refused to be politicised by our political parties. He is a genuine patriot.

Jelena Rozga

- good role model because of her persistence.

Everything she has today is achieved by her hard work.

Although she has been in showbusines for many years, there are no scandals in her carrier.

Maybe if she didn't use her looks and clothes so much to promote herself, she would be a better role model.

Nikola Tesla

The best role model – a unique one!

A world-famous man, and without him the present of all mankind would not be the same.

He impressed us with his intelligence, because he was just an ordinary, poor boy, and he discovered something so great for the whole humanity.

Ivo Josipović

 good role model - college educated man with many interests. (law, music, politics)
 Calm, his appearance inspires confidence.
 He encourages culture, and people see him as the most positive croatian politician.

Ivano Balić

- good role model - he is an athlete, lives a healthy life, and despite numerous surgeries, he continued playing sports, and showed great love and strength for all his activities.

By playing in foreign countries, he promotes our country and contributed to our handball representation as a winner of Men's World Handball Championship in 2003.
